Wall Panel 24"Wx 44"H x 6" Deep (each)

Home Music System with SONOS control

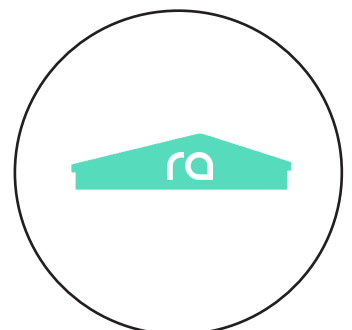

A rack of black boxes is no longer needed to fill a home with music. The Resonance Audio System is just 6" deep and only takes up 2' of wall space. Open the door and the internals are as neat as a pin!

Use the RA-4 as the core of your music system. Add additional panels for larger systems or wireless independent speakers for the less critical areas.

Our CEO is a long time audiophile and insists all our systems reproduce the finer music details and operate at high levels. This means we choose the best components from multiple manufacturers. This "cherry picking" doesn't make the manufacturers very happy, but the result is impressive and will give you years of enjoyment.

The panel uses a SONOS interface, well known for its ease-of-use in selecting music, managing streaming services and controlling volumes. Use this to play different music on each zone or create groups on the fly to fill entire areas of your house with the same beat.
